

Welcome from the Provost and Vice President

Welcome!

Your education will be a vast journey, packed with opportunity. At CSU Channel Islands (CI), you will be informed, guided and inspired by an outstanding faculty. We are here to listen, learn and determine how our efforts can better serve your academic interests.

As the fall semester approaches, I invite you to look at the enclosed fall 2010 schedule. CI students receive a solid education through our core curriculum while the major fields of study prepare them for careers or further study at the graduate and professional levels.

This is an exciting time in the history of CI. The principle of placing students at the center of the educational experience shapes our work and impacts instruction, services, resources and activities. We continue to revitalize our academic and co-curricular programs and improve the physical facilities in which they take place.

I encourage you to take advantage of our recently opened Student Union. The Student Union serves as a gathering place for an exchange of ideas, collaboration and life-long connections. Enjoy this wonderful new facility as you embark on your academic career at CI.

Engage, work hard, and enjoy the experience as you achieve your personal and educational goals.
