

Welcome from the Provost and Vice President

Welcome

Your education will be a vast journey, packed with opportunity. At CSU Channel Islands, you will be informed, guided and inspired by an outstanding faculty. We are here to listen, learn and determine how our efforts can better serve your academic interests.

As the spring semester approaches, I invite you to look at the enclosed spring 2010 schedule. Channel Islands students receive a solid education through our core curriculum while the major fields of study prepare them for careers or further study at the graduate and professional levels.

This is an exciting time in the history of Channel Islands. The principle of placing students at the center of the educational experience shapes our work and impacts instruction, services, resources and activities. We continue to revitalize our academic and co-curricular programs and improve the physical facilities in which they take place.

We look forward to the soon-to-be completed University Student Union. The Union will serve as a gathering place for an exchange of ideas, collaboration, and lifelong connections. I encourage you to take advantage of this wonderful new facility as a way to advance your academic career.

Engage, work hard and enjoy the experience as you achieve your personal and educational goals.

A handwritten signature in dark ink that reads "Dawn Neuman". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first name "Dawn" being larger and more prominent than the last name "Neuman".
