

Deadlines

from the Grants Resource Center

July 12, 2010

This publication includes deadline dates for the month of October 2010 and late announcements for the months of September 2010 and August 2010. Proposals submitted by a referenced target date will be included in a particular review cycle, while those received after the target date will be held for the next review cycle. It is advisable to contact the program staff cited in each listing to obtain all available information.

Those deadlines marked by an asterisk () are tentative. In some cases, these are specific dates that may change depending on the timing of the deadline notices and in others, we have listed just the month during which a deadline is expected. Deadlines marked by a double plus sign (++) are target dates.

Program: Visiting Scholars Program
Agency: Academy of Arts and Sciences
Next Deadline: Oct 15, 2010 (tentative)
Supports the work of younger public policy analysts, humanists, and social scientists who show promise of becoming leaders in their field, especially those who work on multidisciplinary topics. Studies that examine complex and intellectual issues using a multidisciplinary or comparative perspective are encouraged. AAS will make its historic records accessible to scholars. Visiting scholars are expected to be in residence throughout the academic year (September-May). Stipend is $40,000 for postdocs and up to $60,000 for faculty. New details forthcoming in July 2010. Agency: Pat Tillman Foundation

Next Deadline: Oct 01, 2010

Supports IHEs with existing veteran support programs and services, percentage of veteran/military family population, and overall campus culture towards veterans/military families. By December, four universities may be offered a partnership opportunity with the foundation. This does not guarantee the university's students scholarships. However, the insight into the program, application recruitment process, and a smaller pool of applicants, increase probability that a student from a partner university will be funded for a scholarship. E-mail: hiriley@pattillmanfoundation.org for partnership application. See <http://pattillmanfoundation.org> other program details.

Program: Biomarkers of Infection-Associated Cancers

Agency: National Institutes of Health

Next Deadline: Oct 05, 2010

NCI & NIDCR support innovative research (R01, R21) that proposes to identify biomarkers for cancers where the etiology of the disease is attributed to infectious agents. With the advent of high-throughput molecular profiling technologies (e.g., gene microarrays, antibody arrays, & peptide mapping using mass spectrometry), it has become easier to identify molecular signatures of infected host cells & to perform correlative studies to identify high-risk populations. Program: Career Development Award to Promote Diversity in Neuroscience Research

Agency: National Institutes of Health

Next Deadline: Oct 12, 2010

Supports an intensive, supervised career development & scientific mentoring experience (K01) for promising junior neuroscience investigators to obtain research independence during the award. Applicants must be minority, individuals with disabilities, &/or individuals from disadvantaged backgrounds. Proposed career development experience should contribute to the research capabilities of the applicant & research should be in an area of interest to NINDS. PA expires 1/8/12. Program: Mechanisms, Models, Measurement, & Management in Pain Research

Agency: National Institutes of Health

Next Deadline: Oct 05, 2010

NINR along with several NIH institutes support a wide range of basic, clinical & translational studies (R01; R03; R21) on pain, from the micro perspective of molecular sciences to the macro perspective of behavioral & social sciences. Proposals that seek to improve the understanding of the causes, costs, and societal effects of both acute and chronic pain and the relationships between the two are highly encouraged. Studies on the mechanisms underlying the transition from acute to chronic pain are also needed. Expires 1/8/13.
